

The International Conference on Information Systems, Logistics and Supply Chain (ILS International Conference) was founded in May 2004 by Valérie Botta-Genoulaz (INSA-Lyon Engineering School, France), Fouad Riane (Louvain School of Management, Mons Belgium), Nikolay Tchernev (School of Business Management Clermont Ferrand, IUP, France) and James Rappold (School of Business, University Wisconsin-Madison, USA).

The first edition was held in Lyon (France), May 14-17, 2006, 4 special issues of international journals were edited from extended version of communications presented in Lyon (EJOR, IJLSM, JOL and PPC). The second edition took place in Madison-Wisconsin (US), May 28-30, 2008, special issues of international journals will be soon edited. These two conferences gathered more than 300 participants from 30 nationalities. The third one is planned in Casablanca, April 13-15, 2010; 130 communications were submitted, among which 26 propositions for the student competition, the Salah E. Elmaghraby's award.

This is a call for organisation for the fourth edition of the ILS international Conference, which is planned for 2012.

Applications for the fourth edition according to the following template should be addressed before March 30, 2010 to the secretariat of the permanent board of the Permanent Advisory Committee (PAC): Diana Raulier (B): diana.raulier@fucam.ac.be.

The final decision among the candidates will be taken by the PAC members, within the scientific committee meeting that will be held during ILS 2010 conference on April 14 in Casablanca.
